

8.x installation states the platform is Vmware, though it is not a Vmware

Problem Summary	8.x installation states the platform is Vmware, though VMware is not used .
Error Message	In main with args - getValidateErrorFile - called file   /usr/local/bin/base_scripts/server_api_manager.shl - and current mode=UNKNOWN   &lt;LVL::Debug&gt; ServerApiManager  Method: getValidateErrorFile args:  - current mode=UNKNOWN  completed with code [0] &lt;LVL::Debug&gt; hardware_check.sh Validation error on HSSI  mode: Validation Failure: Disk Validation error: Not enough disks found [1] expecting  [2] &lt;LVL::Error&gt; display_screen Arguments: "Hardware Configuration Error"  "WARNING. This system has been identified as an unsupported hardware platform. This  platform may have performance issues and must not be used in a production system of any  kind. By continuing with this platform, you hereby acknowledge that all applicable  warranties and indemnities, and any applicable Cisco services contracts that may be  associated with this system, are null and void." "Continue" &lt;LVL::Debug&gt;.
Possible Cause	Failed disk on the server.
Recommended Action	If it was a fresh install, then action should be another fresh install. If it was an upgrade, then falling back to the older version and re-upgrading from there.
Release	Release 8.0(1)
Associated CDETS #	None.