

Main page: Cisco Unified MeetingPlace, Release 7.0

Up one level: Planning Your Deployment

This chapter describes redundancy for the different system components to help you determine if you need to configure your Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Release 7.0 system for redundancy, including load balancing and failover.

- About Failover Options for the Application Server
- About Load Balancing Options for the Web Server
- About Failover Options for the Media Server

Related Topics

- For information on how to install the Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Release 7.0 system to support redundancy, failover, and load balancing, see Installing Cisco Unified MeetingPlace, Release 7.0.
- For information on configuring the Cisco Unified MeetingPlace system for redundancy, failover, and load balancing, see Configuring the Cisco Unified MeetingPlace System.