

Main page: Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Express, Release 2.x

Previous page: Page References

This page is used to import a system configuration, which consists of the following information: usage configuration, meeting configuration, H.323 call configuration, SIP call configuration, ad hoc meeting configuration, dial configuration, and media parameter configuration.

If some of these settings are missing in the import file, the system ignores them. The system displays warning messages for conditions such as missing parameters, invalid parameter values, and inconsistencies.

Table: Fields on the Import System Configuration Page

Field	Description	Value
Data file to use	Directory path and filename of the import file that contains the system configuration information.	To locate the file, click Browse .