

If the participants can not see shared content and the Share tool window contains a blue cross-hatched pattern, the user sharing the content has covered the shared window or application with another window. The region or regions that you share must be visible on your desktop in order to be visible to other participants in the Share tool.