Main page: Cisco Unified Presence, Release 7.x

Contents

Previous Topic

- Overview of This Integration

- Cisco Integrations
- Third-Party Integrations

Cisco Integrations

For information on integrating Cisco Unified Presence with Cisco Unified Mobility Advantage, see the Cisco Unified Mobility Advantage server documentation.

Related Topics

- Cisco Unified Mobility Advantage documentation:

  http://www.cisco.com/en/US/products/ps7270/prod_installation_guides_list.html

- Getting More Information

Third-Party Integrations

This guide only details how to configure a basic Cisco Unified Presence deployment. For third party integrations, see the document references below.

Third Party Integration	This Guide Describes...

Integrating Cisco Unified Presence with Microsoft Exchange	• Integrating with Microsoft Exchange 2003 and 2007 • Configuring Microsoft Active Directory for this integration
Integrating Cisco Unified Presence with Microsoft OCS/LCS for MOC Call Control	• Configuring Cisco Unified Presence as a CSTA gateway for remote call control from the Microsoft Office Communicator client • Configuring Microsoft Active Directory for this integration* Load-balancing MOC requests in a dual node Cisco Unified Presence deployment over TCP
Integrating Cisco Unified Presence with Microsoft OCS/LCS for Inter-Domain Federation	• Federating between one Cisco Unified Presence enterprise and another Cisco Unified Presence enterprise • Federating between a Cisco Unified Presence enterprise and a Microsoft OCS/LCS enterprise

Related Topics

- About the Interfaces with Cisco Unified Communications Manager
- Module Overview
- Getting More Information