

FACT_export_repository

To make a copy of the specified repository and save a copy of the FACT repository in a file, use the export repository command.

export repository to {file}

Syntax Description

to	Identifies the destination set.
file	Exports the current repository into the specified file.

Command Default

No default behavior or values

Examples

The following example shows exporting the repository to a file named "myrepo":

```
fact> export repository to myrepo
```

Related Commands

export scan import repository import scan