

"Password Does Not Meet the Operating System Security Requirements" Error

Problem Summary	If an attempt is made to change an existing user password before the domain password policy's minimum password age is reached, the user receives an error.
Error Message	Password does not meet the operating system security requirements.
Possible Cause	This condition is caused by attempting to change an existing user password before the domain password policy minimum password age has been reached.
Recommended Action	The user password should not be changed until the minimum password age specified in the password policy for the domain has been exceeded.
Release	Release 7.0(2)
Associated CDETS #	None.