

Displaying Edited Records within Configuration Tools

Problem Summary	If an edit is made and saved in one configuration tool while another configuration tool is open, the edited data will not display in the other configuration tool window (or selection boxes) until you click Retrieve .
Error Message	No message
Possible Cause	Clicking Retrieve not only retrieves data when you first open a configuration tool, but also refreshes (updates the display of) the data that is currently in the database. The configuration tools do not automatically update the display of data when it is changed in the database unless you click Save or Retrieve .
Recommended Action	Click Retrieve .
Release	Release 7.5(1) and 8.0
Associated CDETS #	None.
