

High-Speed Communications Interface (HSCI)

Definition

High-Speed Communications Interface (HSCI) is a single-port interface, developed by Cisco, that provides full-duplex synchronous serial communications, at speeds up to 52 Mbps.

Related Resource

Cisco Trademarks