

When trying to delete and create a new Datsource from the appadmin page, there is an error stating Datasource with the same name exists

Problem Summary	When trying to delete and create a new Datsource from the appadmin page, there is an error stating Datasource with the same name exists.
Error Message	"Datasource with the same name exists"
Possible Cause	There may be a Datasource present in the setup without System DSN created in both the nodes of the HA setup. The database subsystem may be in partial service.
Recommended Action	Find out whether there is a Datasource present in the setup without System DSN created in both the nodes. Delete it from the Appadmin or create System DSN for that Datsource in both the nodes. Database subsystem will come in service after this. Try to create the Datasource again. This will fix the issue.
